12.0 RECORDING…as is custom within the precious metals industry, and as specifically authorized in Paragraph 8 herein, Brinkman Global is authorized by the Customer to accept and follow Customer's verbal instruction and Customer agrees to honor and be bound by all such instructions given. All obligations of the Customer created under this Agreement are joint and several and shall survive the Bankruptcy, death or incompetence of the Customer.

14.0 ROLE OF BRINKMAN GLOBAL…Brinkman Global represents that it acts as both a principal dealer in various precious metals transactions and may act as a broker or agent for the Customer in acquiring or disposing of precious metals.

15.0 ORDERS…Brinkman Global will use its best efforts to comply with the specific instructions of the Customer, although the Customer agrees not to hole Brinkman Global liable if it is unable to accede to the Customer's specific instructions, since market conditions may make it impossible to fill such orders. While Brinkman Global will make a reasonable attempt to contact the Customer prior to canceling any pending Customer Order. However, Brinkman Global reserves the right to cancel any such order(s) received from the Customer, in its sole discretions, without prior notice. Unfilled orders previously given to Brinkman Global are cancelable by the Customer at any time during Brinkman Global regular business hours. All orders are considered to be "day orders" unless acknowledged by Brinkman Global to be "Good til Cancelled". The Customer specifically acknowledged that if Brinkman Global determines to accept a "Good til Cancelled" order. That such order(s) shall be accepted on a "Not Held" basis.

Customer acknowledges that the physical precious metals markets are "dealer markets" and not "auction markets". A dealer market differs from an auction market in that a dealer, acting as principal for its own account, may make a two-sided, bid-ask market for specific quantities of various precious metals. This aspect of the physical precious metals markets dictates that for the Customer to receive an execution, the Customer must "sell the bid" or "buy the offer" when executing their transactions. Therefore, circumstances arise where a dealer (or dealers) may be able to buy or sell at prices, which a Customer may be attempting to buy or sell at, while such Customer's order may remain unfilled.

16.0 REPURCHASE…Brinkman Global, in its capacity of a principal dealer, may maintain and make from time to time, and to the extent it deems advisable, a two-way, bid-ask market in precious metals covered under this Agreement. In the event Brinkman Global, in its sole and absolute discretion, determines not to act as principal dealer in connection with any purchase, sale, repurchase or resale of any precious metals covered under this Agreement, Brinkman Global may make a good faith effort, as agent broker, to find buyers or sellers for any precious metals being purchased, sole, repurchased or resold hereunder. Where, Brinkman Global acts as an agent broker for the Customer, the transaction price may include a mark-up or mark-down and may differ from those quoted by other dealers or market-makers.

17.0 PAYMENT FOR CUSTOMER…In the event Brinkman Global receives written notification from the Customer authorized and/or instructing Brinkman Global to deduct certain sums from the Customer's non-segregated balance with Brinkman Global and pay sums to a third party; whether such third-party to be a bank, financial company or other entity or individual. Brinkman Global shall deduct and pay such sums as are indicated in such written notification and shall not be held liable for so acting. The customer agrees to execute such additional documentation and/or written instructions as Brinkman Global may require to affect the Customer's request.

18.0 INDEMNIFICATION…The Customer agrees to waive any claims against, and to indemnify, defend, save and hold free and harmless Brinkman Global, its principals, shareholders, employees, agents, heirs and assigns for any activities of independent agents (if any) or their agents or employees of which Brinkman Global has no prior knowledge of or control over.

19.0 NON-REGULATED NATURE OF TRANSACTIONS…THIS agreement authorizes the parties to enter into transactions in “non-regulated physical commodities” (including, but not limited to: “physical: gold, silver, platinum, palladium, bullion, bullion coins, and fabricated bullion products”). A physical transaction (purchase or sale) of precious metals is not subject to any additional regulation by any governmental or self-regulatory authority and is bound by the Uniform Commercial Code. Purchases or sales of precious metals may not be suitable for persons who require liquidity and/or a relatively certain rate of return on their investment. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall constitute a solicitation to trade or authorization to enter into, or shall entitle the parties to enter into a regulated futures, options on regulated futures, securities or options on securities. Unless alternate forms of delivery are agreed upon by Brinkman Global, all transactions entered into under this Agreement shall be satisfied by the actual taking or making of “physical delivery” of the merchandise bought or sold subject to industry standards and practices.

The Customer specifically acknowledges that the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended does not cover non-exchange traded “cash transactions” in physical precious metals. Additionally, the Customer acknowledges that funds or property received by Brinkman Global arising our of or resulting from transactions entered into under this Agreement are not required to be segregated and in fact, will not be segregated, from funds or property of Brinkman Global. The Customer acknowledges that the Customer Protections available under the Commodity Exchange Act, as amended, the Rules and Regulations of the Commodity Futures Trading Commission, the Rules and Regulations of the National Futures Association and/or the various exchanges do not apply to transactions covered under this agreement.

20.0 TAX…Brinkman Global believes the precious metals transactions entered into under this Agreement are being made in “interstate commerce”, and accordingly, Brinkman Global does not collect state or local sales or use taxes from purchasers thereon. Nevertheless, should any state or political subdivision assert a sales, use, excise or other tax to be imposed or is or becomes payable upon any purchase or sale of precious metals, such tax liability is and shall remain the sole responsibility of the Customer and Brinkman Global expressly disclaims any such obligation, including, but not limited to the collection thereof..Furthermore, Customer specifically agrees, that in the event Brinkman Global is held liable for failing to collect any such tax, immediately upon demand by Brinkman Global, Customer shall remit said amount so levied (including any penalties or fines) to Brinkman Global for payment to such taxing authorities. If, Brinkman Global in its sole judgement, reasonably believes that it has an obligation to collect such taxes and pay them on behalf of the Customer, Brinkman Global will do so.

21.0 FABRICATED WEIGHTS…precious metals, gold, silver platinum or palladium are commonly fabricated in the following weights, but may also be available in differing weights, from time to time:

Gold=1.00, 5.00, 32.15, 100.00 Fine Troy Ounces
Platinum=1.00, 5.00, 10.00, 50.00 fine Troy Ounces
Palladium= 1.00, 10.00, 50.00, 100.00 fine Troy Ounces
Silver=1.00, 10.00, 100.00, 1,000.00 fine Troy Ounces

It should be noted the bullion Coins are minted in "fractions of a troy ounce" and some larger weight gold, platinum and silver bars are cast for industrial and not investment uses and as such their weights are not exact and in fact may vary up to 20% from the stated cast weight.

22.0 PASSAGE OF TITLE…

A. PROSECTOR PURCHASES…Customer warrants that it holds clear title to all products its sells to Brinkman Global. In the event that it comes to Brinkman Global's attention that a dispute as to Customer's ownership of any product sold, Customer shall immediately provide Brinkman Global with proof of clear title or replace said product with product accompanied by proof of ownership and clear title in such form as is acceptable to Brinkman Global. Customer shall bear the entire cost(s) associated with replacing product subject to a challenge as to Customer's ownership. Title to all metal purchased from customer by Brinkman Global shall pass to Brinkman Global upon issuance of payment by Brinkman Global in the form agreed upon.

B. BRINKMAN GLOBAL SALES…title to all metal purchased by Customer from Brinkman Global shall pass to Customer upon delivery to the Customer, the Customer's appointed agent or designee or such bank, depository or other storage facility as the Customer may so instruct. Brinkman Global makes no representation, warranty, or guarantee as to, and hall not be responsible for the accuracy or completeness of any information or advice furnished to the Customer. The delivery by Brinkman Global of such information concerning the value or price, or the future value or price of precious metals communicated to the Customer by Brinkman Global, its employees or agents does not constitute and offer to buy or sell any precious metals. Brinkman Global may act as a principal dealer in transactions covered under this Agreement, therefore Customer acknowledges that Brinkman Global will, in all instances where it acts as such principal, hol a positions(s) opposite the Customer's position (i.e., Customer buys/ Brinkman Global sells, Customer sells/Brinkman Global buys). Customer additionally acknowledges that Brinkman Global and/or its officers, directors, affiliates, stockholders, employees and agents may purchases or sell precious metals, for their own or other accounts which are covered under this Agreement. Brinkman Global shall not be liable to the Customer due to such differing purchases or sales.

Brinkman Global may pay selling commissions and referral fees to various individuals in connection with Customer(s) purchases or sales. Such payments create an inherent conflict of interest whereby certain individuals may receive a monetary gain as a result of the Customer making precious metals purchases through Brinkman Global. The customer should carefully consider all information available, from whatever source, and should only make a precious metals purchase or sale after conducting an in-depth investigation, and satisfying himself of the appropriateness of entering into a specific transaction(s) in light of his current financial condition. The Customer specifically represents that all purchases and/or sales of precious metals are solely the result of the Customer's analysis of the advisability of entering into such transaction(s).

Upon default, Brinkman Global will be relieved of all obligations under the specific transaction and may recover from the Customer (as Liquidated damages) the difference between the purchase/sale price agreed to by the Customer and Brinkman Global's bid/ask price at the time of default, plus any associated expenses (including, but not limited to buy/sell commissions, storage, insurance, handling, interest charges, vault fees and reasonable legal and/or collection costs.)
